REPORT OF SCHCOL BOARD.

To the Citizens of Hancock ;

It is gratifying to your School Board to be able to report more satisfactory results in the school work of the past year. These results have been obtained in part by following a more uniform and systematic course of study, by the use of some better text books, by a better attendance of the pupils, as the enlarged Roll of Honor and the average attendance of ninty percent will testify and especially by retaining some of the best of our old teachers and employing some excellent new ones.

We wish to call attention to the fact that the State Aid Law of 1909 apportions money to the towns on the basis of average attendance and qualified teachers.

By securing last term one teacher who is a Normal School graduate, and another who holds a permanent New Hampshire State teacher's certificate, our district receives from the State $2.00 per week for each, payable next December.

Through experience and observation we are convinced that in order to secure the best teachers, we must pay such salaries as they can command elsewhere and lengthen the school year.

That means a larger sum of money for school purposes. People from the cities are fast purchasing all available real estate in our town and establishing homes here for their families. If we wish to retain them as citizens we must make our schools equal to those in the places from which they have come.

For new text books we have purchased Dodge's Geographies, Hunt's Spellers and the Scott and Southworth Language Books.

Following the instructions of the district at the last school meeting, the town water was brought into the village school building and the faucet in the hall has proved a great convenience. The village school house was also painted, and the No. 8 school building. Here also it became necessary to lay a new floor.

If any of our citizens have pictures of our Presidents, great statesmen, poets, etc., for which they have no use, the School Board suggests that they be donated for the adornment of the walls of our school rooms and the inspiration of the children.

The Board request all young children, who are to begin the first year work in school, to enter the schools at the opening of the fall term when the school year begins.

According to amendments enacted at the last session of the General Court relating to school money, the School Board must in their annual report prior to the school meeting, notify the selectmen of the amount needed in addition to the regular school money. Hence we make the following statement.

a The regular school money, same as last year	$1410 00
b High school tuition	300 00
c Text books and pupils' supplies	150 00
d Flags and appurtenances	10 00
e Repairs	100 00
f Other obligations

Attention is called to the complete works of Thackeray and Dickens which have been added to the library.

Water from the town system has been installed in the building during the year.

The library is open afternoon and evening of Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday of each week.

It is encouraging to note that the townspeople and summer residents use the library freely, while the guest book shows a record of 128 out of town visitors to the library from August first to December first.

REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD.

To the Citizens of Hancock:

The School Board in submitting its annual report is pleased to be able to announce that the school work of the year just passed has been successful.

The pupils on the whole, have been interested in their work and have made good progress in their studies.

We have been fortunate, with one or two exceptions, in securing teachers that have not only won the respect of their pupils, but proven themselves qualified to engage in that high calling of directing the minds of our children towards an education.

Although everything that might be desired has not been accomplished, yet we feel that the results attained during the past year have been an improvement over previous years.

A desirable class of people are purchasing all available real estate in town and occupying it principally for permanent homes, and if we wish to retain them as citizens we must see to it that our schools are kept up to date in equipment and furnishings as well as in methods of instruction and courses of study.

Two important features have been introduced into our school work during the year, viz.: The employing of a superintendent, and the teaching of music by a competent instructor.

The school districts of Marlboro and Harrisville have finally united with Hancock in forming a supervisory district, and we have thus been enabled to carry out the vote of the district to this effect, taken several years ago.

After many personal interviews and much correspondence, Mr. Carl Cotton was secured as superintendent at a salary of $1200 per year, one-half of which is borne by the state; Hancock's share being $180.

We feel that we have secured a competent man for the position and although he did not commence his duties until the beginning of the fall term, yet the value of a supervisor has already made itself apparent through better work in our schools, and that he has not been idle will be realized on reading his report to the school board.

Two hundred dollars was voted at our last annual meeting for musical instruction in our schools. This sum has been carefully laid out and that it has been a paying investment we feel sure all would agree did they have an adequate idea of the progress made in this line.

For new text books we have introduced the lower grades of the Aldine series of readers, which have proven highly satisfactory. Such other books and supplies have been procured as needed for actual use and to replace those worn out.

Two complete sets of maps have also been purchased for schools No. 2 and No. 3. Should we continue our present number of schools a set of maps is needed for No. 9 school the coming year.

Quite extensive repairs and equipment are needed in our outlying school houses, among which are new black-boards complete, a partial set of new seats and desks and plastering and whitewashing to some extent.

Therefore a larger appropriation than usual is needed for repairs.

We would respectfully urge upon parents and other citizens the importance of visiting the schools more and thus becoming better acquainted with the work being done, thereby gaining position whereby they will be able to judge understandingly of its quality.

According to provisions of state law, we make the following financial estimates of the needs of our schools for the coming year:

Money required by law,	$1410 00
To be assessed by Selectmen.
a High school tuition	300 00
b Text books and pupil's supplies	150 00
c Flags and appurtenances	5 00
To be appropriated at school meeting.
Salaries of school district officers	100 00
Needed for repairs	200 00
Additional school money needed	700 00

The Roll of Honor, Statistical Table, Report of Superintendent to the School Board and Treasurer's report follow.

Respectfully submitted,

WILFRED M. DAVIS,

TO THE SCHOOL BOARD OF HANCOCK.

GREETING:

I have the honor to present my first annual report as superintendent of your schools. As I undertook the work only last fall and have served but a portion of a year thus far, I may not be expected to render so full and complete report as though my service had been of longer duration.

In assuming my duties I found that my chief work would be in guiding, directing and encouraging the work of the teacher in a sympathetic and appreciative manner, so that defects in methods and principles could be remedied in such a way as not to discourage the teacher. Among my other duties have been the nomination of teachers and employees, recommending of text books, supplies, courses of study, programs, and directing the methods of instruction.

Matters relative to the appropriation of revenue, establishment of schools, election and dismissal of teachers and employees, contral of the program, the adoption of rules and regulations and all other matters not specifically delegated to the superintendent by them, have been left with the school board, as is customary elsewhere throughout the United States.

The plan or program which is outlined in the State program is an excellent one and has been used, with slight modification sometimes, by nearly every superintendent in the state and has been adopted by the school board and used by your superintendent.

In it particular stress is laid upon reading in the first three years, at the end of which the child should have mastered the mechanics of reading. He should have sufficient practice to enable him to read readily, smoothly and with understanding, ordinary prose. In order to produce this result in our rural schools the work of the first year must be vitalized and the child required to do some actual reading. With this aim in view a combination of the rhyme and phonic method has been adopted with gratifying results. One primer has been completed in all the schools to date and some have read more than one book. From three to six books should be read thoroughly the first year.

A great part of our difficulty in school work grows out of the difficulty the children have in reading their work and understanding what they have read. If half the child's energy is expended in getting the pronunciation and meaning of common words he can get but very little meaning out what he reads in his other school subjects, such as arithmetic, geography, grammar, etc. It is the basis of his school life and he must have it before he can forge ahead. The child that does not learn to read during the first three years of his school life will probably never learn it. Other avenues of learning are closed to him.

In arithmetic the aim has been at rapidity and accuracy in addition, subtraction, multiplication and division; common and decimal fractions, including the different phases of percentage, taxes, commission, interest, commercial discount; denominate numbers and the table of weights and measures and facility in solving easy problems bearing on these subjects. Arithmetical puzzles that will seldom or never be of practical value to the pupil are eliminated or postponed to the last grade of the grammar school, when the reasoning power of the child shall have become stronger.

Tests have been made of the pupils' writing. Each pupil, in conjunction with the teacher and superintendent, has been allowed to judge his own writing by comparing it as a series of samples, ranging from illegible to perfect writing, on a chart. In this way the child gains a very good idea of the quality of his own writing and is possessed with an asperation to improve it at other future tests. Much rivalry is displayed among the different schools themselves as to their relative standing which is summarized. The object in writing is to give the children the ability to write with a fair degree of rapidity a legible hand. This calls for freedom of movement rather than beauty of writing. In the lower grades form and speed come with practice.

The work in history and geography is designed to give the pupils a knowledge of the world and its peoples, with special reference to their relations with the United States. In language and grammar the program emphasizes the importance of giving the child during the earlier years of his school life, the ability to express his thoughts in good plain English, and in the last years the fundamentals of English grammar.

The purpose of the teaching of physiology is to make the children acquainted with their bodies and common functions; to teach them how to use and care for them and to teach them the injurious effects of evil habits and poisonous drugs.

Teachers are admonished to exercise as careful supervision over the children during the recess periods as in school hours. All the teaching along moral lines is frequently allowed to be broken down at recess. A participation by the teacher in organizing their plays and games not only gives the teacher greater leadership among her children but also eliminates many of the sordid features of school life. In this way the weak will be developed physically as well as the strong by being required to take some active exercise.

In our district schools we must generally employ recent untrained high school graduates and train them as fast as we can into efficient teachers. Our chances for securing normal school graduates are very remote, as the graded schools absorb them readily. This has been a very important part of my work and to do it I have visited the schools as often as possible, watching carefully for opportunities to show the teacher where she might improve her work; taking the class sometimes for a few minutes to show her how to teach the subject better and vitalize some method of teaching discust or studied by the teacher. In other instances the teacher is told how to work to the best advantage and secure the best results.

Teachers' meetings have been held for the purpose of discussing methods as well as to illustrate them by actual teaching; to promote an interest in improving the teacher's professional knowledge and to discuss the topics of the State examination.

I would recommend that new blackboards be purchased for all schools. Those in use are inadequate or not up to the standard required today for good school work. Slate is very cheap now. At present it can be obtained for 15c. per square foot. It furnishes the best surface to write on and will last as long as the building.

Much of the furniture in the rural schools is either broken or pernicious in that the child does not fit it. This should be replaced by new furniture.

In closing, I wish to express my appreciation of the cordial manner in which the people of Hancock have received me and the hearty cooperation of the members of the school board, without which I would have been unable to accomplish much that I have undertaken.

Respectfully submitted,

CARL COTTON,

Superintendent.

REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD.

To the Citizens of Hancock:

The School Board in submitting its annual report feel confident that the work accomplished in our schools during the past year has been of a high order and has resulted in placing the schools of our town upon a more uniform and systematic basis than ever before.

These improvements have been brought about through two agencies: first, an efficient teaching force, and second, through the effect of the very careful oversight and supervision of our school superintendent, Mr. Cotton.

With one or two exeptions, we have been fortunate in securing good teachers, as the results of their work in the school room so abundantly testify. We believe that those retained are well qualified to assume the responsibility of directing the thoughts and minds of our children towards an education.

As to the superintendent's value in raising our schools to a higher standard of efficiency, we believe that it cannot be overestimated. and feel that the plan has passed from the experimental stage to a condition of actual necessity in our school system.

The boys and girls of today will be the men and women of the near future and it is our simple duty to give them every advantage possible in our educational system that will tend to fit them for the responsible positions of life.

The study of music and singing has been continued in school now for two full years and we feel that the results attained will justify the making of this a permanent feature of our school work.

At the close of our school year last June a class of seven graduated from our schools, having finished the course of study adopted for our common schools, and it shows a commendable spirit of enterprise on the part of both graduates and parents that the whole class has entered high school in other towns.

For several years past the school year for the district has been thirty weeks. This time is insufficient for the pupil to do a year's work as laid out in our course of study as recommended by the State Superintendent.

We would recommend that an appropriation sufficient to maintain at least thirty-four weeks be raised this year.

The most of our surrounding towns have a school year of thirty-six weeks and if we wish to have our children make an equal showing with those from other towns, they should have an equal number of weeks of schooling.

A determined movement is on foot in town to have a higher institution of learning established here. This will supply a long felt need if brought about, but no demand for such an institution will exist unless the common schools of this and surrounding towns are so conducted as to fit their pupils for high school at the usual age for entering such places of learning.

Through the moving into town of several families recently, it was found necessary to again open a school in No. 7 and no doubt this will have to be continued.

Slate black-boards have been put upon the walls of four of our outside school-houses during the year and other small repairs made as needed. Quite a lot of repairs are needed upon some of the outer school-houses and it is desirable that slate black-boards be placed in the school-rooms at the Center. Thus a larger appropriation is needed than usual for repairs.

On account of opening another school and the cutting down of the estimate presented by the school board at the last annual meeting, the funds in the treasury have become very low and some bills remain unpaid. It is almost imperative that a much larger appropriation be raised at our school meeting this year if even the present number of weeks of school be maintained.

We make the following financial estimates for the needs of our schools for a school year of thirty weeks:

Money required to be raised by law,	$1342 50
To be assessed by Selectmen:
a High school tuition	400 00
b Text book and pupil's supplies	150 00
c Flags and appurtenances	5 00
To be appropriated at school district meeting:
Salaries of school district officers	100 00
Needed for repairs	250 00
Additional school money needed	1000 00

We take this opportunity of thanking parents and all interested citizens for their co-operation in raising our schools to their present state of efficiency.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

To the Hancock School Board:

I take pleasure in submitting to you my second annual report as superintendent of your schools. The year has been a prosperous one and your supervisor believes that a good amount of progress has been made both on the intellectual side of the development of our children and the physical environment, which is of no less importance than the former. There is much left to do however. The fact that education is in a constant process of change, both in methods of teaching and curriculum, eternally confront one. This is due to several conditions.

But a short time ago only a very small proportion of the pupils reached the same relative state of advancement as the average or normal pupil does today. The reason for this was that the child was given a different kind of education, an education in which technicalities played such an important part of the teacher's work and the work of the text book writer, that only the brighter child succeeded in surmounting the difficulty. Then only the highly selected pupil was allowed to enter the high school. The resultant is obvious. Today eighty-three per cent. of those who graduate from the grammar schools of our State pass into the high school and fifty-one per cent. of those who pass into the high school graduate. This fact alone represents a great stride in our educational process. It has been accomplished within ten years from date and is an achievement of which New Hampshire may well be proud. It may not be out of place to remark that more pupils, in proportion to population, are graduated from the high school in our State than in any other State of our Union. The high school has now become just as important a factor in our common school system as the primary school was but a short time ago.

The new labor law, requiring the child to be in attendance at school one hundred fifty whole days previous to arriving at the age of fourteen years in order to secure a certificate, serves as another check to hold our children in school until they are sixteen years of age. Those who desire the certificate most are least likely to obtain one, as they are usually the very ones who fail to have the requisite number of days attendance.

As a necessary consequence of these facts the methods of dealing with our pupils have been in a process of change and are bound to change, with a view to fit the child more completely to its environment. The whole type of teaching has been changed from the hair-splitting, dogmatic hearing of recitations, asking of pumping questions and time killing processes to methods of teaching and drilling. Testing is not abolished by the teacher but is reduced to a minimum consistent with thorough work and good progress in the school room.

Much gratification is felt from the fine spirit of cooperation existing among our teachers, the great improvement in the quality of the work of the school room and the progress of the pupils. One of our teachers has been granted a State certificate. Two are from Normal schools and one a college graduate. The other two are teachers of experience. More has been accomplished in strengthening our teaching force than I had expected.

Our teachers have attempted to create among their pupils a healthy spirit of consideration for the rights of others both at school and about town. We are handicapped in this only by bad examples and false ideals inculcated outside the school room. Parents and town officials are earnestly requested to assist school authorities in carrying out these ideals.

Teachers' meetings have been held for the purpose of discussing methods as well as to illustrate them by actual teaching, to promote an interest in improving the teacher's professional knowledge and to give specific directions in regard to the work of the school room, such as utilizing the black-boards to the fullest extent, requiring accuracy in thought and speech and detailed methods of teaching and drilling.

The usefulness of a teacher as summarized in a recent school report, may be estimated largely, by the way she meets these requirments.

"Her attitude towards life in general and her work in particular, her willingness to harmonize, her refusal to become a tale bearer, a gossip, or a critic.

Her desisting from malicious, unjust criticism of those in authority.

Her ability to inspire, sweeten, broaden and harmonize her class as a whole.

Her ability to command the respect of her pupils even though she may not be popular with them.

Her willingness to grow.

Her ability to broaden.

Her effort to keep out of a rut, to keep sweet and keep moving.

By the eagerness of her pupils, to acquire knowledge (manifested in their interest, application, attendence and deportment.)

By the strength of a class after leaving her."

Cases of scrambling, irregular and slovenly work by the children are particularly to be avoided.

This calls for high ideals and habit forming power on the part of the teacher. Such looseness and carelessness is distressing in the extreme and an earnest effort is being made to eradicate the evil, to the last vestige, in our schools.

Last year considerable testing was done by your supervisor in writing, with the purpose of stimulating this branch of the work as much as possible. After a year's deliberation, the only conclusion which can be arrived at is that a practical system should be adopted.

It should be a system that calls for speed, form and freedom of movement, rather than beauty of writing.

Testing is continued in this subject, as well as others, with the idea of stimulating a healthy competition among the different schools and pupils of the district.

Our children should not in their close application to their books lose sight of what is going on in the world about them. A close observation of the characteristics of the common plants and animals which are about us is a whole education in itself. Persons who possess this power of observation usually have greater acumen in attending to the ordinary duties of life as well as enjoy a keener and broader appreciation of it. A few minutes each week should be devoted to teaching along this line of thought or this subject should be correlated with others.

The work of the school room in general is being brought into closer relation to the program of studies and our different schools are doing more nearly the same work. This work is recorded and placed on file every five weeks. With such a record and grading of pupils a new teacher saves much time by avoiding the repetition of work already done.

The teacher also avoids repeating the same topic too frequently. She is encouraged and directed in doing new and essential work. What may be omitted without injurious results is also pointed out.

The program also adjusts the work of the schoolroom to the age of the child. Previous to the age of eleven the child does not care to work in the abstract, but enjoys all kinds of memory work and drill in the fundamentals.

So much repetition is often irksome to the teacher but it must be done in order that the child may be properly grounded in the fundamentals. Whatever abstraction the child of this age does acquire, is best obtained by doing a large number of concrete problems and then making it own deduction of the principal involved.

The child has but little power of intense application but must have frequent changes of work. The thinking power is slow and no attempt should be made to give a thorough or technical knowledge of such a subject as memoration, or the technicalities of English grammar.

The reasoning power has not yet manifested itself, consequently compound numbers, bills and notes, interest and problems, involving puzzling situations, should be put over to the grammar school age. From twelve to fifteen the child begins to enjoy the reasoning process and will do a large amount of abstracting. Right here is the place where the need of a thorough grounding in the fundamentals is felt. If the child is required to do abstract problems at a time when it should have been mastering the foundation of its school work, the child's time has been worse than wasted.

By adapting the work to the age of the child there has been a material improvement in all subjects. The essentials of reading, language, grammar, history, geography, writing, etc., are being emphasized and better taught and the non-essentials are receiving less attention.

Among the books added to our equipment during the past year are Wide Awake Primers, First and Second Readers, Wilson's History Reader for the fourth grade and the Gulick Physiology Readers for the fifth and sixth grades. A set of Curry's Literary Readings, a work of five hundred pages, containing the biography of twenty-two authors and two or more complete selections from each, has been purchased. It is economical as a reader and possesses a high degree of literary merit. Attention should be given another year to histories in the fifth and seventh and eighth grades and reading matter of a supplementary nature.

The blackboards installed in the country schools are of great assistance to efficiency in teaching. They are much appreciated by our teachers and serve to make them more contented in their work. Slate also should be installed in the village schools as the surface of the boards there fail to take the chalk well and cause a constant eye strain, which is injurious to the child's vision.

The seating arrangements of No. 7 school house should be changed and different furniture installed which is more suitable to the size of the pupils. The hall ways of No. 2 and No. 3 school houses should be repaired.

The consideration and courtesy with which your superintendent has met on the part of citizens and parents and the hearty co-operation of the school board has been of great assistance in his work.

Respectfully submitted,

CARL COTTON.

REPORT OF LIBRARY TRUSTEES.

The Trustees of the Hancock Town Library submit the following report.

Through the generosity of Miss Elizabeth M. Hayward, our fire-place has been furnished with a much needed pair of andirons.

The Reading Room, has been made more attractive by the addition of a deer's head, the gift of Mrs. Hattie Moores Shaw.

We have in a very small way, made provision for the congested condition of the Library, by installing a new stack. We anticipate this will barely provide shelf room for the present.

The Library Endowment Fund, is $12000.00, in addition to this, there has been saved from our income, from time to time, for a Building Fund, $1463.24 now on deposit in Peterborough Savings Bank.

Library and Reading Room open Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday from 2 to 5, and from 6 to 9, P. M., legal holidays excepted.

There have been 210 charge cards issued, representing 6894 volumes and 968 periodicals taken out.

The Guest Book shows a record of 176 out of town visitors.

We gratefully acknowledge books from Mrs. T. Morris Brown, Mrs. Henry Tudor, Mrs. Drew, Rt.

Rev. Anson R. Graves, Mr. Thomas S. Perry, Mr. John Vaughan Morrill, Mr. Albert E. Pillsbury, Mr. Albert Bowers, Mr. Duncan Newell, Mr. Robert P. Porter, Mr. David M. Tipton, Ticonderoga Pulp and Paper Co., National LumberManufacturer's Association.

Also gifts of periodicals, from Mrs. E. K. Upton, Mrs. Pietersz, Mrs. M. A. Homes, Mrs. M. J. Lindsay, Karl G. Upton, Mr. James T. Weston, Mr. Thomas S. Perry, Mr. Edgar L. Ware.

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL BOARD.

The school year just closed has been one of progress along the lines mapped out by our late superintendent, Mr. Cotton, and discussed by him in his last year's report.

It was with genuine regret that we accepted the resignation of Mr. Cotton when he decided to enter upon a business career last July. Our State Superintendent of Public Instruction has well said that no one force is so truly the key to efficiency in our school system as is competent, professional, supervision. Mr. Cotton gave us that, and your school board take this opportunity to make public expression of their appreciation of his most efficient work for the improvement of our schools.

During the summer our supervisory district was enlarged by the admission of Wilton to the union of Marlboro, Harrisville and Hancock. While this lessened in a small measure the amount of time that the superintendent could give us, it also lessened our proportion of the expense and yet increased the general fund so that the services of an experienced man, capable of doing the work of a large district, could be secured.

Out of a large number of candidates, Mr. Frank M. Rich was chosen for the position and assumed the duties of the office at the beginning of the school year, September, 1912. Mr. Rich comes to us highly recommended, well trained and experienced. He has taught in all the elementary grades and in High Schools. His name appears at the head of the list of those who took the Boston examinations for elementary positions in 1911. He has taken the course for superintendents of schools in the Mass. Agricultural Summer School at Amherst and holds both the Mass. and New Hampshire state certificates. With all his work in the school room he has found time to compile a number of valuable educational booklets. His course of study in English is to be used as a textbook in the schools of our district. We are glad to introduce to our citizens a man, who, we are confident, will help us to educate and train our children in the best possible manner.

It is a matter for congratulation that two of our teachers, Miss Nellie and Miss Annie Welsh have, within the year, been enrolled upon the list of New Hampshire's certified teachers, having taken and successfully passed the state teachers' examinations. Young teachers who have not had the training of a normal school will find the study and preparation for these examinations a valuable asset. Three pupils completed the prescribed course of study last June and passed the examinations admitting them to High School. All entered the Milford High School.

Our citizens who attended the graduation exercises and listened to the musical part of the program must have been convinced that the two hundred dollars appropriated for the instruction of our school children in music had been well expended. The study of music should be considered an essential part of a child's education.

We regret that an epidemic of measles has threatened the present school year, and trust that the appropriation of funds will be sufficient for at least thirty-four weeks of school next year.

It is evident that many parents do not realize the importance of sending their children to school every school day as the law requires, unless the children are ill and hence unfit to go. It may not be generally understood that for the encouragement of attendance, State Aid may be obtained in towns of our size and equalized valuation per pupil of average attendance. For the year ending last July our attendance was brought up to such an average that we received $90.42. This amount is sufficient to give all the children in town an extra week of school or pay for more than half of the text books and supplies required for a year.

Numerous repairs have been made in all of the school houses. A new floor was laid in No. 7 and slate black boards put up in the two village school rooms. The furnace was also thoroughly repaired.

The settlement of the unpaid bills of the previous year has necessarily greatly increased the expenditure of this year.

Should most of the pupils of the eighth grade pass the examinations and enter High Schools next Fall the tuition money must be considerably increased. We submit the following estimates for a school year of thirty-four weeks.

Money required to be raised by law	$1,342 50
To be assessed by selectmen:
(a) High School tuition	600 00
(b) Textbooks and supplies	200 00
(c) Flags and appurtenances	5 00

To be appropriated at school meeting:

(a) Salaries of school officers	100 00
(b) Repairs	200 00
(c) Additional school money	1,200 00

The Roll of Honor, Statistical Table and Treasurer's report follow. Allow us to call your attention to the report of our superintendent to the school board.

Respectfully submitted,

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

To the Members of the School Committee of the Town of Hancock:

I have the honor of submitting for your consideration the report of the School Superintendent for the year 1912-1913.

FIRST IMPRESSIONS.

As my acquaintance with Hancock schools dates back less than half a year, any comparison of their condition at present with what it has been in the past is impossible. My impressions of the schools from the first has been favorable. The work compares well with the work of similar towns elsewhere. The teachers are earnest and painstaking, the text-books as a whole wisely chosen, the schoolhouses in respectable condition, and the pupils studious and well managed. Some of the defects which are noticeable but by no means universal, are lack of professional training for teaching, the neglect of handwriting and of oral and written English, a shortage of good material for primary reading, and too little instruction outside of the text-books. But while there is abundant room for improvement along these and other lines, yet in general the town is getting good value for the money put into the schools and will not suffer much by comparison with other towns similarly situated.

SUPERINTENDENT'S VISITS.

Up to date, the superintendent has spent 19 days in visiting the schools of the town. With a few exceptions, these have been half-day visits, so planned that each school receives a call once in three weeks. Since teachers are asked to save all the written work of the pupils from one visit to the next, and since most of the teachers keep a daily plan book, with the topics and assignments for each lesson recorded, the superintendent is able to keep closely in touch with the work, not only by means of the recitations that take place during his visit, but, through the records of every day's work as found in the plan book and papers. Whatever helps or suggestions seem to be needed are given at recess or at the close of the session.

Many items that need systematic attention but do not always require discussion are noted on blanks like the following, which have been adopted and used at recent visits. A copy may be of interest to the public as showing what we emphasize in the management of the schools, and how many details enter into the teacher's work, which might escape the notice of the casual observer.

NEW IMPROVEMENTS.

Among the new devices that have been introduced into the schools lately have been:

(1) The Thompson drill sheets, a series of about 40 different sets of papers containing the essentials of arithmetic, grammar, language, etc., in a form which enables us to teach the fundamentals of these subjects with all possible thoroughness and rapidity.

(2) The so-called "Good Management" word and number builders, a form of seat work with which the smaller pupils can do brisk, effective work in arithmetic and language by themselves when they are not reciting.

(3) The substitution of daily dictation instead of the spelling of separate words, so that the pupils have not only spelling of words large and small but constant practice in punctuation and in the meaning of unfamiliar expressions gathered from their use.

(4) A certain method of teaching the facts of addition objectively so that pupils do not have a tendency to acquire the counting habit, which is one of the greatest hindrances to rapid accurate number work throughout the grades.

TEACHERS' HELPS.

On account of the inconvenience caused in getting teachers together for general meetings, none of these has been held in town as yet. Instead, the superintendent has printed in typewritten form the material he would have presented at such meetings and distributed it among the teachers in a form that is definite and permanent. One is a 40 page booklet on school management and another of 48 pages on English. Others are in preparation.

In these writings and in personal conferences with the teachers, the superintendent has urged the importance of the physical welfare of the children, cleanliness, ventilation, the care of supplies, co-operation with parents, punctual adherence to program and time schedule, the advantage of having each day's work arranged and planned beforehand, efficient methods of teaching various subjects, systematic drill and review, and the supreme desirability of teaching the pupils to speak and write clear, correct, forcible English.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

On account of the short time I have had oversight of your schools, the accomplishments of the present are less numerous than the plans and recommendations for the future.

One of the most pressing wants is for a schedule of work especially adapted to the needs of country schools. The state program of study, which we follow, outlines admirably the ground that should be covered in an eight year course, but no teacher should attempt to carry on eight separate classes in all the various subjects of the course, or even in any one of them. Some combination of classes is necessary. But such combination should not be left to chance nor to the hasty judgment of a new teacher. Every child has a right to a well arranged program of work, provided with adequate drill and review, of course, yet stripped of needless repetition. He may be obliged to work in a class with others slightly below or slightly above his own ability—this will not hinder him from doing good work—but he should never be required to repeat work that has already been completed, or be thrust into work manifestly beyond him. Provisions should also be made for the bright, maturer pupils above the average age to finish in less than the scheduled time without omitting any essential feature of the subject.

The plan here outlined combines all these advantages and a number of others. Briefly, it is as follows:

Divide the work of the common school course into five divisions, or forms, corresponding, in a way, to the old first, second, third, fourth and fifth reader classes. Each form except the first and last represents two years' work, making eight years in all. Each year's work of a given form is equal to the other in difficulty but different in content. For instance, the reading of form two consists of second readers, a different set each year. It would make no particular difference which year's work in a given form the pupil began with, and so a pupil in the second year of a certain form could work with a pupil just promoted from the form below. Both would be working in new books and in books suited to their ability. In practice one school would have the books for a certain half of each form, another school the books for the other half. At the end of the year, the books would be changed. Pupils whose advancement warranted would be promoted to the next form. Those who needed more work along the same lines would remain and take another year's work in the same grade but with entirely new material. In this way, nobody would be repeating the same work on two successive years, and yet more than five different grades of work in a single room would never be necessary.

A summary of the complete outline for the entire course is given below:

Other recommendations that I would make are as follows:

The addition of several new kinds of readers for the primary grades. Our pupils could do much more than is done at present if they had the material. It is generally agreed that the most rapid advancement in speed and vocabulary is made when the work is kept easy enough so that a large quantity can be read fluently.

The purchase of a large number of miscellaneous supplementary reading material—one book of a kind—as recommended in the State program, to be used for seat work, and borrowed and taken home at night. Reading is the foundation for all other subjects, and the pupils would be only too glad to help themselves if we only provided them with enough of the right kind of material. The public library is a help in this respect, but it is at too great a distance from many, and cannot do the work so effectively as the school that has just the right grade of material to pass out at just the time when it is needed.

The adoption of a spelling book in all grades that will provide an effective course in daily dictation. The Spaulding and Miller and a number of other recent spellers meet this requirement.

The adoption of a definite system of writing—preferably the Palmer method, which provides a free normal correspondence course for teachers, who must have special instruction to get the best results in any system.

The use of certain improvements in the outside closets which will tend to make them more cleanly and sanitary.

The use of a ventilated stove jacket, which will help to heat all parts of the schoolroom alike and bring in fresh air in a safe and comfortable way.

The adoption of a sliding scale of salaries so that a teacher of growing preparation and efficiency can hope for some increase in her reward without being obliged to leave the district and take a position elsewhere.

Respectfully submitted,
FRANK M. RICH,
Superintendent.

Water Commissioners' Report.

We have given our water system a severe test, as we have been through three or four years of as dry seasons as we have ever had, and had plenty of water for all purposes.

Our water system with all additions and extensions, to the present date, cost the town in round figures sixteen thousand dollars. At the present, it is paying six hundred and forty dollars per year in cash rentals or four per cent. on the total investment. Besides giving the town fourteen hydrants, three watering troughs, one fountain, water at the school house and town house and library free, which figured at the rate we would have to pay a private company, three hundred and twenty dollars, would make six per cent. the town is getting on their investment, and we see no reason why it will not continue to do so, or even better as our rentals have kept gaining every year.

This shows our system to be a good paying investment, and as soon as the money borrowed on notes is paid, it will be putting a good round sum in the town treasury yearly.

During the year we put in one new connection and repaired two breaks in the water main and the expense was as follows:—

Repairing break in water main, near Moreau's) labor	9 35
Tapping water main and fittings, R.R.	3 62
Lead and jute	1 52
Lead, labor and supplies repairing leak in main near watering trough	17 00

REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD.

To the Citizens of Hancock:—

We are pleased to report, on the whole, a fairly successful year in the administration of our school system. We were unfortunate in the resignation of the senior member of the Board, Mr. W. M. Davis, in October. The Board appointed Mr. Albert S. Moore, who has had a long experience in school matters, to fill out the unexpired term. Mr. Moore qualified for the office December 1, 1913.

Superintendent.

The report of our superintendent follows. We feel encouraged for the progress of our schools under the supervision of so able and efficient a superintendent as Mr. Rich has proven himself to be. This town's share of the expense for this fiscal year is $162.

Teachers.

With the exception of the teacher of the Fall term in the Grammar school, the teachers of the various schools have given satisfaction and have done efficient progressive work. It is to be desired that all our teachers should either have received training in Normal schools or through self-preparation have taken the examinations for a permanent New Hampshire Teacher's certificate.

Closing Schools.

Only a few pupils remaining in district No. 8, and most of those being comparatively near the village, the Board discontinued that school with decided advantage to the pupils and with a substantial saving of the school money.

At No. 9, through removal, the pupils were reduced to three, and the Board voted to discontinue the school and transport the pupils elsewhere. But because of the earnest protest of the two families concerned, and under advice from the State superintendent of Instruction, the Board rescinded its action and continued the school through the winter. While this brings the per capita cost per pupil extremely high, and the three children are not receiving the advantage they could have in a larger school with an experienced teacher, it seemed the best thing to do for the winter. It is hoped different arrangements can be made for the warm months.

Recess Periods.

One of the weak points in our school system has been the lack of oversight during the noon and recess periods, especially at the village school. The result was, not only a rude boisterousness of conduct, but an occasional mischief of low disgraceful character occurred, which seemed to more than destroy the culture gained in the study hours. In consultation with the superintendent, a re-arrangement of the time schedule at the village school was made so one of the teachers shall be present and have oversight during the noon hour and all recess periods. This has already shown favorable results in the general bearing of the pupils.

Heating Apparatus

The Superentendents report contains a recommendation for improving the heating of our outside schools. This winter has emphasized a new the need of an improved heating plant for the Village school.

High School

The citizens of the town are to be congratulated that this year sees the establishment of a High School by the Hancock Educational Association. Next year, with two classes, in the High School and possibly an assistant High School teacher, Hancock will have a nearly complete educational system.

It remains for those in authority to strive to make our educational system practical and successful. We should especially emphasize the development of character as superior even to the acquiring of knowledge. And with all else, trying so adjust the teaching that our children will be trained to practical life; fitted, not for some theoretical student or city career; but fitted to make good homes, live useful lives, and develop the resources of the good home town of Hancock. In striving for these results we ask the hearty good will and co-operation of all our citizens.

REPORT OF SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT

To the School Committee of the Town of Hancock:

The following report of my work as superintendent of schools takes up a number of matters connected with the new outline, the scholastic work of the schools, the equipment, teachers' meetings and other helps, the registration bureau, the parents' association, teachers' reports regarding attendance, janitor service, etc. It also includes a brief report of the supervisor of music.

OUTLINE OF WORK

Among the recommendations of last year we mentioned the need of an outline of work which would make it possible for each pupil even in the mixed schools to pursue a steady, progressive course from year to year, and yet enable the teacher to combine classes so as to make five, instead of eight, the maximum number of divisions in any school. Such a schedule has now been prepared, printed and placed in the schools as a working schedule. Copies will be furnished to parents who are interested. This pamphlet lists all the books and topics to be covered in a given period. It provides against the omission of important material or the needless repetition of books or subjects already mastered, regardless of changes in schools or teachers. When marked by the instructor it becomes a report showing where each class stands in the course and what remains to be done. Such reports are sent in by all the teachers from time to time, showing definitely what each school is doing, and making possible much closer supervision than when there is only the personal visit of the superintendent to go by. The writer believes this work to be of real importance, as it puts the work of the schools for the first time upon an orderly and systematic basis.

EQUIPMENT

To provide an equipment of books reasonably complete, a good deal of new material had to be purchases this year. Most of the purchases have been to fill out our stock of titles already in use. A few new kinds have been added—the Stone-Millis arithmetics, the Aldine language books, and a number of supplementary readers. All these have proved unusually interesting and have done a good deal to brighten up the work in these subjects.

With the installation of screens or jackets for stoves, a sanitary seat with spring hinge for boy's closets, sanitary cans (ordinary milk cans) for drinking water, tea kettles to warm water for washing and to moisten the air of schoolrooms, an additional supply of wall maps, and a little more blackboard, we shall have in our rural buildings practically everything recommended by the State Department in the "Suggested Minimum Schoolroom Equipment for Elementary Schools."

Considerable has been done and is being done by teachers and pupils in the way of rebinding and repairing books. All books are given a coat of spar varnish on the outside, which makes them germ and water proof, and saves a large part of the wear. There is no doubt but that half the money expended for text books and supplies is wasted where the books are allowed to fall to pieces for lack of a little attention. Lessons in rebinding books is good economy, good manual training and good citizenship.

Supplies for the year have been bought in quantity with three other towns, from E. E. Babb and Co., the lowest of several bidders.

SCHOLASTIC WORK

English still continues to be emphasized as the most important subject of the grammar schools. Some progress is being made in giving our pupils a clear correct style in oral and written language, but much remains to be accomplished to bring our pupils up to the standards of style and technic that are found in the best schools elsewhere.

The writing in all schools but one is below the average. In one of the others much good work has been done on the Palmer method but as yet the habits of position, speed, slant, etc., have not become automatic. In all schools a fair standard in the regular work is insisted upon, but it requires ceaseless vigilance to break up the careless, scrawly writing that a large proportion of our pupils have fallen into.

As a whole,creditable work has been done in reading, phonic, memory work, technical language and abstract arithmetic.

TEACHERS' MEETINGS AND HELPS

During the summer vacation a two weeks' meeting for teachers was held in Marlboro. Of the 49 teachers in attendance, 5 were from Hancock. The subjects of the morning sessions were "History of Education," "Psychology," "School Management," "Primary Arithmetic," "Reading," "Cultural English," "Technical English," "Seat Work," and "Science." Afternoon sessions included daily practice in sight singing and drawing and in the evening a course in music appreciation and a number of entertainments were provided.

No other meetings have been held this year, except those conducted by the State Department. Several meetings are scheduled for the spring term with the following topics:

Taylor's principles of scientific management and their schoolroom application.

VIZUAL MATHEMATICS

New light on the psychology of interest, with devices.

Teaching how to study, with seat work devices for grammar grades.

With a view to stimulating interest in neighboring schools and in the good ideas of other teachers, the writer has collected samples of pupils' work and passed them on to other places. Teachers are thus able to keep in touch with each other and to judge their own work by others' standards.

A TEACHERS' REGISTRATION BUREAU

One of the most important parts of a superintendent's work is to be able to advise in regard to the employment of new teachers. Ordinarily, where salaries are low, the superintendent is forced to choose from among his own acquaintances and the few candidates who happen to apply, or else call upon the teachers' agencies to furnish applicants whose records they have investigated. If he depends wholly upon his own lists, he is forced to accept a good many who are incompetent. If agencies are consulted, salaries are reduced 5 per cent, the regular commissions of the agencies. Whether this charge appears on the records as one of the town's expenses, or is paid by the teacher out of her own salary, in the end it is the town that must bear the burden, for it must offer the agency applicants enough to cover both the salary and the commission.

The writer has attempted to remedy the situation to some extent by establishing a bureau, supported by a number of towns, where applications are received and the qualifications of candidates investigated. The information is kept on file for the use of anybody who may have a vacancy. In this way the work of the agencies is accomplished with very little expense. The plan makes it easier for teachers to find places, and it enables committees to select the best candidates available at the salaries they can pay. Twenty-two towns have united with this one. One hundred and twenty-five teachers have been registered. Four high school and twenty-five grade teachers have been given places, and the entire expense has been less than an agency's commission on one of the high school positions.

AN EXCHANGE

In educational circles a good deal has been said recently about "surveys" or investigations of a city's school system by a corps of outside experts who study the various schools in detail with a view to measuring, and without bias, rating their actual efficiency. Something of the advantages of a survey might be secured by two superintendents' changing towns and each making reports on conditions as he finds them in his neighbor's territory. At least the scheme would afford an interesting glimpse at the situation from another's standpoint. Plans are under way in this town for such an exchange for a short time with a neighboring superintendent.

A PARENT'S ASSOCIATION

Whatever the system and methods in vogue, and whoever is chosen to adminster them, the final burden of responsibility rests with the citizens. The schools will be about as good as the people demand, or about as poor as the people will tolerate. Officials, teachers and pupils must feel that fine work is understood and appreciated and that poor work is recognized and meets with disfavor if all are to be kept up to a maximum of efficiency. Mere faultfinding does not accomplish much, especially the kind that springs from personal dislike, natural suspicion or poor digestion. But a constructive interest that is willing to spend a little time in studying educational matters, to learn what can be done, and what ought to be done, and to lend support to the wisest and best means of improvement can accomplish more than any other factor in school administration.

With the hope of interesting parents and others in an organization for the study and improvement of the schools, I have sent circulars to a number of the citizens describing the purpose of such an association and inviting their cooperation. "School improvement" or "parent teachers' societies, meeting once a term or oftener, to hear speakers and discuss educational topics, have been of great interest and service in other parts of the State, and are likely to accomplish as much here. Considerable outside talent is available for such meetings. There are always local topics to come in for attention. If the gatherings did no more than bring teachers and parents together for a few minutes' discussion of their common problem, the work would be worth the effort. As fast as there seems to be interest enough manifested in the various neighborhoods, meetings will be scheduled and societies organized.

REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD

To the Citizens of Hancock:

In reporting the administration of our school system from the period of March, 1914, to March, 1915, we are pleased to notice some encouraging things. We also notice that much advance work is needed to place our schools in the front rank for efficiency.

Superintendent

Our superintendent closed his work with our supervisory district, October 13, to accept an elementary principalship in Paterson, N. J. He left the schools in good running order, so the Board felt we could for the rest of the year get along without a superintendent with fairly good results. However, the Board feels that for the best good of our schools we should reform a supervisory district and engage a superintendent for the next school year.

Teachers

The schools began in the fall with an excellent corps of teachers who have been doing steady efficient work. However, experience brings out more and more strongly the necessity of normal or other teacher training, for those who are given the responsibility of educating our children. The School Board feels that the time has come to establish the rule, to be broken only in necessity, that no teacher shall be given a Hancock school who has not had good normal or other teacher training.

The Schools

Village, Grammar and Primary

The village school is running with very little friction, due to the efficient teachers in control, the supervision of noon and recess periods, and the absence of any scholars of bad or disobedient tendencies. Some of the pupils of the outside schools are being sent to the village school by their parents who realize the better facilities naturally belonging to a central village school.

School No. 2—The Dutton School.

The children of this school have had much to contend with in getting started in their English studies. Much remains to be done to place them where they should be in the grade work of pupils of their age.

School No. 3—The Stearns School.

The conditions here are largely the same as at No. 2. Several of the pupils of this school are attending at the village. With an additional teacher at the Central school it might be of advantage to have all the scholars of this district attend at the village.

School No. 7—The Stone School.

This school includes an interesting group of pupils and good progress is being made.

School No. 9—The Weston School.

There are only three pupils in this school. We were fortunate in securing a teacher who is contented with a school of that size and whose influence with the children is good.

High School.

The School Board contracted with the Educational Association to care for our High School pupils of the first and second years at one dollar per pupil per week. A few parents preferred to send their children elsewhere at their own expense. Two pupils of the fourth year attend at Peterborough. We are, as a town, to be congratulated on the progress and development of our High School which enables us to educate our children in advanced studies without being obliged to send them out of town.

General Comments.

For some years past we have realized that our school system as a whole has not been sending our children out of the eighth grade with the thorough and complete knowledge and training they should have. We have not had the results gained by many other towns. Even with able superintendents in charge the educational results have been unsatisfactory.

We wish to point out two of the deterrent causes which we can easily remedy. One is found in the financial necessity of employing untrained teachers in our outside schools. Most of our outside schools are very much below the standard. Our pupils there should have as good advantages as any. But to obtain that we must have highly trained experienced teachers.

To obtain them the Board must be able to pay the wages such teachers can obtain elsewhere.

One other deterrent cause is found in the insufficient number of teachers for our village school. The school has never had but two teachers and so it may seem a new and unnecessary proposal to increase the teaching force. But we must bear in mind that the advance of education has of necessity kept pace with the advance of civilization. The education we received is not sufficient for the needs of our children who will have to live and work in ever increasing complex conditions. Central schools of advanced standards now do not allow one teacher to attempt to cover four grades for the simple reason that neither enough time nor mental strength can be devoted to any one class or recitation. For instance, the seventh grade in our grammar school attempts to cover some eight topics or studies. With the many studies of the other three grades and combining as much as possible, some studies are allowed only a ten-minute recitation. If there are ten children in the class that gives an average of one minute per child of teaching for that study. No argument is needed to show that such a teaching recitation must of necessity be superficial and partial. Under such conditions we must expect meager results in the education of our children.

The Board proposes: That a room be finished over the hallway in the village building, to be heated with an ordinary stove, to be used as a recitation room; that an additional teacher be placed in the village school; that higher priced and better qualified teachers be placed in our outside schools. These plans will require a special appropriation to finish off the room. But we believe this will insure a much needed advance, and the appropriation be money well invested in the future welfare of our children. We include this needed increase in the estimate for the coming fiscal year.

The Trustees of the Hancock Town Library submit the following report:

Library and reading room open Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday from 2 to 5, and from 6 to 9 P. M., legal holidays excepted.

for a building fund, $1,803.58, now on deposit in Peterborough Savings Bank.

The crowded condition of the library has necessitated the addition of four small stacks.
